Mullin, one of the foremost translators of the Dalai Lamas, has selected key texts from eight of the Dalai Lamas that clearly elucidate the proper understanding and context of the tantric system in this lineage. Learning to Dream Again-Samuel Wells 2013-04-26 "Hope is about learning to dream - provided one remembers the dream comes not so much out of one's own unconscious, but out of God's. Hope is first learning God's dream, and then living it.' This striking guide to thoughtful Christian living explores the everyday experience of Christian hope and wisdom. The Heart Is Strange-John Berryman 2014-10-21 A lively sampling from the work of one of the most celebrated and daring poets of the twentieth century John Berryman was perhaps the most idiosyncratic American poet of the twentieth century. Best known for the painfully sad and raucously funny cycle of Dream Songs, he wrote passionately: of love and despair, of grief and laughter, of longing for a better world and coming to terms with this one. The Heart Is Strange, a new selection of his poems, along with reissues of Berryman's Sonnets, 77 Dream Songs, and the complete Dream Songs, marks the centenary of his birth. The Heart Is Strange includes a generous selection from across Berryman's varied career: from his earliest poems, which show him learning the craft, to his breakthrough masterpiece, "Homage to Mistress Bradstreet," then to his mature verses, which find the poet looking back upon his lovers and youthful passions, and finally, to his late poems, in which he battles with sobriety and an increasingly religious sensibility. The defiant joy and wild genius of Berryman's work has been obscured by his struggles with mental illness and alcohol, his tempestuous relationships with women, and his suicide. This volume, which includes three previously uncollected poems and an insightful introduction by the editor Daniel Swift, celebrates the whole Berryman: tortured poet and teasing father, passionate lover and melancholy scholar. It is a perfect introduction to one of the finest bodies of work yet produced by an American poet. As Far As the Heart Can See-Mark Nepo 2011-09 Stories carry the seeds of our humanness. They help us, teach us, heal us, and connect us to what matters. As Far As the Heart Can See is an invitation to be in relationship with deep and life-giving material. Many spiritual gurus present dense metaphysical theses with an intellectual approach for "working" a spiritual path; poet and philosopher Mark Nepo reaches people through their hearts, bringing something fresh and new to the field by stimulating change through reflection of thoughts and feelings. The stories he shares in As Far As the Heart Can See come from many places—from Nepo's personal history to dreams to the myths of our ancestors. Each one is an invitation to awaken an aspect of living in relationship with the sacred. Following each of the forty-five stories are three forms of an invitation to further the conversation: journal questions, table questions, and meditations. The questions, whether reflected upon in a journal or discussed in deeper conversation with friends or family, are meant to lead the seeker down unimagined paths and back into life; the meditations are meant to ground the learning. These stories and parables about universal concepts and themes offer a poet's sensuality and a philosopher's sensibility to personalizing the journey of the human experience in the world. The Storyteller-Raymond Christian 2013-02 The train appears a little dark in color and mysterious. Its boxcars have titles like spray-painted graffiti on its walls, with their doors half open with a dark, mysterious interior. My thoughts are displayed in the book throughout because I want you to feel me and understand love, passion, and also pain. In the Heart of a Fool-William Allen White 1918 Through The Eyes Of The Heart-Lisa Leon 2012-06-27 Through The Eyes Of The Heart was inspired by a dream and a message from my guardian angel Maria. It was the year 2009 when images of the Sacred Heart began to appear to me in many different places and at this time I began to have direct communication with our beloved Maria. During visits to a local church Maria would make her presence known to me and allow me to photograph her. Maria has asked me to share my images with the world; to use these images to teach others that they need to see through the eyes of the heart. We usually want proof that something exists as our minds have been conditioned to not see what lies before us and I hope the messages and images I have to share will do just that. From my heart to yours I hope to take you on a journey of what lies beyond so that you may get out of your head and into your heart and see that there is much more to our existence than what lies before us. Poems from the Heart-Deborah Erlichson 2012-11-14 To Jacob, From Deborah Erlichson From a mother to her son: You are my first born, My son who I have sworn to love. When you smiled at me for the first time, No doubt, you are a part of me, Cant you see? My unconditional love for you is immeasurable, Yet it was and is so pleasurable! I fed you, bathed you, and took care of you when you were sick, You were and still are my heart and soul; you loved lollipops & favored every lick. You are my inspiration and my joy. So why displace it with a ploy? You are married now and have your own life, Please dont disregard me and give me strife. When you dont call me to ask me how I feel, It makes me sick like a sunburn getting ready to peel. You are a great father and good husband, And so glad and so proud of you. All of my eternal Love, Mom The Hand But Not the Heart, Or, The Life-trials of Jessie Loring-Timothy Shay Arthur 1859 The Heart of England-Edward Thomas 1906
